The Star and Sentinel.

THE GATES ARE OPEN THERE.

The voice of melody is hushed,
Silent the house of prayer;
But songs are echoing in heaven;
The gates are open there.

Darkness hath locked the outer door—
Guards the untrodden stair;
The "many mansions" are not dark;
The gates are open there.

New footsteps ever pressing in
The place, prepared to claim;
New brows uplifted to receive
The new baptismal name.

Each moment of the busy week
Unbindeth loads of care,
And beareth upward weary souls
To restless service there.

The darkest hours of longest night
With noiseless pinions bear
Awakened ones to life and light;
The gates are open there.

Open for angels to descend
And minister to thee:
Open for prayer to enter in—
Open for you and me.

HOME.

Home's not merely four square walls,
Though hung with pictures nicely gilded;
Home is where affection calls,
Filled with shrines the heart hath builded.
Home! go watch the faithful dove,
Sailing 'neath the heaven above us;
Home is where there's one to love—
Home is where there's one to love us.

Home's not merely roof and room—
Home needs something to endear it;
Home is where the heart can bloom,
Where there's some kind lip to cheer it!
What is home with none to meet,
None to welcome, none to greet us?
Home is sweet, and only sweet,
When there's one we love to meet us.

GIVE US THIS DAY OUR DAILY BREAD.—In a miserable cottage at the bottom of a hill, two children hovered over a smouldering fire.—A tempest raged without, a fearful tempest, against which man and beast were alike powerless. A poor old miser, much poorer than those shivering children, though he had heaps of money at home, drew his ragged cloak around him as he crouched down at the threshold of the miserable door. He dared not enter for fear they would ask pay for shelter, and he could not move for the storm.

"I am hungry, Nettie."

"So am I. I've hunted for a potatoe paring, and can't find any."

"What an awful storm!"

"Yes, the old tree has blown down. I guess God took care that it didn't blow on the house. See, it certainly would have killed us."

"If he could do that, couldn't he send us bread."

"I guess so—let's pray 'Our Father,' and when we come to that part, stop till we get some bread."

So they began, and the miser crouching and shivering listened. When they paused, expecting in their childish faith to see some miraculous manifestation, a human feeling stole into his heart, sent by an angel to soften it.—He had bought a loaf of bread, thinking it would last him a great while, but the silence of the two children spake louder to him than the voice of many waters. He opened the door softly, threw in the loaf, and then listened to the wild eager cry of delight that came from the half famished little ones.

"It dropped down from Heaven, didn't it?" continued the younger: "Yes, I mean to love God forever for giving us bread because we asked him. We'll ask him every day, won't we? Why, I never thought God was so good, did you?"

"Yes, I always thought so, but I never quite knew it before."

"Let's ask him to give father work to do all the time, so we need never be hungry again; he'll do it I'm sure."

The storm passed—the miser went home.—A little flower had sprung up in his heart.—It was no longer barren.

In a few weeks he died, but not before he had given the cottage, which was his, to the poor laboring man.

And the little children ever after felt a sweet and solemn emotion, when in their devotions they came to those trustful words:

"Give us this day our daily bread."

GALLANTRY OF PRESIDENT JACKSON.—During a visit of the hero of New Orleans to Philadelphia, while he was President, a hale, buxom young widow greeted him with a shake of both hands, at the same instant exclaiming:

"My dear General, I am delighted to see you; I have walked six miles this morning to enjoy this rare felicity."

To this the President replied, with an air of dignified gallantry—

"Madam, I regret that I had not known your wishes earlier; I certainly would have walked half way to meet you."

☞The Bishop of Wurtzburg once asked a sprightly shepherd boy: "What are you doing here, my lad?" "Tending swine." "How much do you get?" "One florin a week?" "I, also, am a shepherd," continued the bishop, "but I have a much better salary." "That may be; but then, I suppose, you have more swine under your care," innocently replied the boy.

☞THE Boston Post is responsible for this:—At a printer's festival recently held in Lowell, Massachusetts, the following toast was presented: "The Printer—The master of all trades—he beats the farmer with his Hoe, the carpenter with his rules, and the mason with setting up his tall columns; he surpasses the lawyer and the doctor in attending to his cases, and beats the parson in the management of the 'devil.'"

PREACHING.—A minister, in a highly elaborated sermon which he preached, said, several times, "The commentators do not agree with me here." Next morning a poor woman came to see him with something in her apron. She said that her husband had heard his sermon, and that it was a very fine one, and as he said "the common taters did not agree with him," he had sent some of the best kidneys!

AT Lynn, Mass., a Sunday School teacher asked a little girl who the first man was.—She answered that she did not know. The question was put to the next, an Irish child who answered loudly, "Adam sir," with apparent satisfaction.

"Law," said the first scholar, "you needn't feel so grand about it, he wasn't an Irishman."

A schoolmistress, while taking down the names and ages of her pupils, and of their parents, at the beginning of the term, asked one little fellow: "What's your father's name?" "O, you needn't take down his name; he's too old to go to school to a woman," was the innocent reply.

THE NOBLE REVENGE.

THE coffin was a plain one—a poor miserable pine coffin. No flowers on its top, no lining of the rosewhite satin for the pale brown; no smooth ribbons about the coarse shroud. The brown hair was laid decently back, but there was the crimped cap, with its neat tie beneath the chin. The sufferer from cruel poverty smiled in her sleep; she had found bread, rest and health.

"I want to see my mother," sobbed a poor child, as the city undertaker screwed down the top.

"You can't—get out of the way, boy: why don't somebody take the brat?"

"Only let me see her one minute," cried the hopeless orphan, clutching the side of the charity box, and as he gazed into the rough face, anguished tears streamed rapidly down the cheek, on which no childish bloom ever lingered. Oh! it was pitiful to hear him cry, "Only once, let me see my mother only once."

Quickly and brutally the hard-hearted monster struck the boy away, so that he reeled with the blow. For a moment the boy stood panting with grief and rage—his blue eyes disended, his lips sprang apart. A fire glittered through his tears, as he raised his puny arm, and with a most unchildish accent screamed, "When I am a man, I'll kill you for that."

There was a coffin and a heap of earth between the mother and the poor forsaken child—a monument, much stronger than granite, built in his boy-heart to the memory of the heartless deed.

The Court House was crowded to suffocation.

"Does any one appear as this man's counsel?" asked the judge.

There was silence when he finished, until, with lips tightly pressed together, a look of strange intelligence blended with haughty reserve upon his handsome features, a young man stepped forward with a firm tread and kindly eye, to plead for the erring and friendless. He was a stranger, but from his first sentence there was a silence. The splendor of his genius entranced—convinced.

The man who could not find a friend was acquitted.

"May God bless you, sir, I cannot."

"I want no thanks," replied the stranger, with icy coldness.

"I—I believe you are unknown to me."

"Man! I will refresh your memory. Twenty years ago you struck a broken-hearted boy away from his mother's poor coffin. I was that poor boy."

The man turned livid.

"Have you rescued me, then, to take my life?"

"No, I have a sweeter revenge; I have saved the life of a man whose brutal deed has rankled in my breast for twenty years. Go! and remember the tears of a friendless child!"

The man bowed his head in shame and went out from the presence of a magnanimity as grand to him as incomprehensible, and the noble young lawyer felt God's smile in his soul forever after

TRICKS OF A JUGGLER.

The far-famed Robert Heller cannot be satisfied with his legitimate triumphs before an audience, but occasionally does a neat thing for his own amusement, very much to the surprise of those who happen to be present.—On Saturday last, while passing an itinerant vender of cheap provisions, Mr. Heller suddenly paused and inquired:

"How do you sell eggs, Auntie."

"Dem eggs," was the response; "dey am a pickayune apiece—fresh, too, last one of 'em; biled 'em myself, and know dey's fust rate."

"Well, I'll try 'em," said the magician, as he laid down a bit of fractional currency.—"Have you pepper and salt?"

"Yes, sir, dere dey is," said the sable saleswoman, watching her customer with intense interest.

Leisurely drawing out a little penknife, Mr. Heller proceeded very quietly to cut the egg exactly in half, when suddenly a bright, new twenty-five cent piece was discovered lying imbebbled in the yolk, apparently as bright as when it came from the mint. Very coolly the great magician transferred the coin to his vest pocket, and taking up another egg, inquired:

"And how much do you ask for this egg?"

"De Lord bless my soul! Dat egg! De fact am, boss, dis egg is worth a dime, shuar.

"All right," was the response; here's the dime. Now give me the egg."

Separating it with an exact precision that the colored lady watched eagerly, a quarter eagle was most carefully picked out of the centre of the egg, and placed in the vest pocket of the operator, as before. The old woman was thunderstruck, as well she might have been, and her customer had to ask her price for the third egg two or three times before he could obtain a reply.

"Dar's no use talkin', mars'r", said the bewildered old darkey. "I can't let you hab dat ere egg, nohow, for less dan a quarter. I declare to de Lord I cant."

"Very good," said Heller, whose imperturbable features were as solemn as an undertaker, "here is your quarter and here is the egg. All right."

As he opened the last egg, a brace of five-dollar gold pieces were discovered snugly deposited in the very heart of the yolk, and jingling them merrily together in his little palm, the savant coolly remarked:

"Very good eggs, indeed. I rather like them; and while I am about it, I believe I will buy a dozen. What is the price?"

"De price!" screamed the amazed daughter of Ham. "You couldn't buy dem eggs, mars'r, for all de money you's got. No! dat you couldn't. I'se gwine to take dem eggs all home, I is, and dat money in dem eggs all 'longs to me. It does dat. Couldn't sell no more of dem eggs, nohow."

Amid the roar of the spectators, the benighted African started to her domicil to "smash dem eggs," but with what success we are unable to relate.

WHAT a queer fellow the Frenchman must have been, who for twenty years loved a lady and never missed passing his evenings at her house. She became a widow. "I wish you joy!" cried his friend; "you may now marry the woman you have so long adorned." "Alas!" said the poor Frenchman, profoundly dejected; "and if so, where shall I spend my evenings?"

☞"How came you to loose your legs?" "Well," said Jones, "on examining my pedigree and looking upon my descent, I found there was some Irish blood in me, and becoming convinced that it was all settled in that left leg. I had it cut off at once." "It is a pity," said an Irishman, "that it did not settle in your head."

BASHFUL WOMEN.—Bashful women are not always the most modest. Prudery is often assumed rather to keep off suspicion of criminality than to protect from criminality itself. There is a degree of reserve, which like vaulting ambition overleaps itself.

WOULDN'T TAKE TWENTY DOLLARS.

Some waggish students at Yale College, a few years since, were regaling themselves one evening at the "Tontine," when an old farmer from the country entered the room (taking it for the bar room) and inquired if he could obtain lodging. The young chaps immediately answered in the affirmative, inviting him to take a glass of punch. The old fellow, who was a shrewd Yankee, saw at once that he was to be made the butt of their jests, but quietly laying off his hat and telling a worthless little dog he had with him to lie under the chair, he took a glass of the proffered beverage. The students anxiously inquired after the health of the old man's wife and children, and the farmer, with affected simplicity, gave them the whole pedigree, with numerous anecdotes about his farm, stock, &c.

"Do you belong to the church?" asked one of the wags.

"Yes, the Lord be praised, and so did my father before me."

"Well, I suppose you would not tell a lie?" replied the student.

"Not for the world," added the farmer.

"Now what will you take for that dog?" pointing to the farmer's cur, who was not worth his weight in Jersey mud.

"I would not take twenty dollars for that dog."

"Twenty dollars? why, he is not worth twenty cents."

"Well, I assure you I would not take twenty dollars for him."

"Come my friend," said the student, who with his companions was bent on having some capital fun with the old man. "Now you say you won't tell a lie for the world, let me see if you will do it for twenty dollars.—I'll give you twenty dollars for your dog."

"I'll not take it," replied the farmer.

"You will not? Here let us see if this will tempt you to tell a lie," added the student, producing a small bag of half dollars, from which he counted small piles on the table, where the farmer sat with his hat in his hand, apparently unconcerned. "There," added the student, "there are twenty dollars all in silver. I will give you that for your dog."

The old farmer quietly raised his hat to the edge of the table, and then as quick as thought scraped all the money into it except

The Star & Sentinel.

Wednesday, October 9, 1867.

Advertisers and others interested will bear in mind that the regular circulation of the "STAR AND SENTINEL" is much larger than that of any other paper published in the County, being read weekly by not less than 10,000 persons.

☞Advertisements, to secure immediate attention, must be handed in on or before Tuesday morning.

TO OUR READERS.

For several months past, the pressure upon our columns by reason of the fall advertising, and the discussion of political issues growing out of the election held yesterday, have precluded that variety in our columns, otherwise desirable. Now that the election is over, and the demand for special advertising has somewhat abated, we shall be able to give our readers more varied general reading. The discussion of political issues must of course continue to engage more or less attention, until the great problem of Re-construction shall have been definitely solved, in the interest of Freedom and in the triumph of Republican principles. But while fearlessly meeting these issues, it will be our aim to give a larger amount of general news and literary matter—in a word, to make "THE STAR AND SENTINEL" a first class family paper, and a welcome weekly visitor to every reader. The approaching session of Congress will be an important and exciting one. The machinations of a faithless and treacherous President must be defeated, and the country looks with confidence to the true men in our National Councils, who for four years have bravely withstood Treason and Disloyalty, to finish up the work by such legislation as shall in future render President JOHNSON and his abettors powerless in their bad purposes. We have made arrangements to keep our readers thoroughly posted in Congressional matters during the entire session. One of the Editors will be in Washington during the winter, whose position and relations to the leading Republicans of the country, will enable him, from time to time, to give our readers reliable resumes of national politics.

We are gratified to know that our efforts in the past to improve the tone and character of our paper, are appreciated, as is evidenced by the frequent letters we receive from various parts of the county, expressing warm approbation of the improved appearance and general conduct of the paper. We have added to our list over one hundred subscribers within the last few months, all of whom came forward voluntarily, without canvassing on our part. We shall be pleased to continue to add to our list. Although we have already a much larger circulation than was ever attained by any paper in the county, there are still many Republicans in the county who do not take a County paper, and our list could be largely increased by a little effort on the part of our friends.

We have already gone to a good deal of expense in the purchase of new type, material, &c., and claim now to have a Printing office second to none in the State in facilities for doing all kinds of Printing, from large Posters to the smallest cards. We intend, notwithstanding, to increase our facilities in this respect. With these assurances we leave the "STAR AND SENTINEL" to the generous support of its many and tried friends.

OUR facilities for all sorts of Job printing, are unsurpassed in this region of country. Pamphlets, Cards, Circulars, Bills, and every variety of Printing, done promptly, cheaply, and tastefully. Our supply of Type, &c., is extensive, has recently been enlarged, and is adapted to every form of work.

THE RESULT.

We give this morning the result of the Election in the County and State yesterday, so far as indicated by the returns that have come in. The Election passed off quietly in this county, the vote being light, and in consequence of the apathy in the Republican ranks, the Democrats carry the county—electing their entire ticket by majorities ranging from 300 to 400. Mr. SHIVELY, our candidate for Commissioner, made a handsome run in his own district, leading the ticket 72.

The Liquor and Sunday law questions, with other local issues, have swept Philadelphia, for the time, from its Republican moorings, and the heavy Democratic gain there endangers the State ticket.—There has evidently been a very light vote in the State, with a corresponding diminution of the Republican vote. The following despatch from Col. JORDAN, Chairman of the Republican State Committee, is the latest we have:

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 9, 12.15, A. M., 1867.
HON. E. MCPHERSON—
Legislature safe—but State doubtful.
FR. JORDAN.

CONCERNING the question of impeaching President Johnson, it will be interesting to know that several prominent Republican members of Congress have advanced the opinion that immediately following the presentation to the Senate of articles of impeachment by the House, the President would be placed in the same condition as a man indicted by a grand jury for any crime or misdemeanor, and as a natural sequence would be virtually under arrest or in the custody of the officers of the House. They claim that the passage of a bill of the nature above mentioned is not necessary, as the logical result of impeachment would be the suspension of the officer impeached pending his trial by the Senate.—They also argue that the President in suspending Secretary Stanton, although he acted ostensibly under the provisions of the Tenure of Office Bill, has established a precedent which the House can consistently follow, as they insist that if the Senate refuses to sustain the removal of Stanton he will be restored to the War Office, and that if the Senate refuse to find Mr. Johnson guilty of high crimes and misdemeanors under the articles of impeachment presented by the House, if they are presented, he would be restored to his office.—There is no doubt but what these views on this subject will be submitted early during the coming session, and may exert considerable influence on the passage of the bill providing for such suspensions.

THE remains of the Assassination conspirators, convicted and executed for the murder of President Lincoln, and also the remains of Wirz, the Andersonville jailor, were exhumed on the 1st inst., and re-interred in another locality that has not been divulged. The removal was made by order of the War Department, and was rendered necessary by contemplated improvements in the old penitentiary grounds. The affair was very quietly conducted.

ADAMS COUNTY ELECTION.

We give the result of the Election in this county yesterday, so far as received up to the hour of going to press. We also give the vote for Governor in 1866, to enable the reader to make a comparison of the vote polled in the several districts last year and this year. Names of Republican candidates in italics.

McClure was destroyed by fire on Wednesday morning last.

FREDERICK.—The Central National bank has made a dividend of four per cent.—The Swan-Johnson-Democrats of Frederick county have settled the following ticket:—County Clerk, Charles Mantz; Register, Sebastian G. Cockey; State's Attorney, John Ritchie; County Surveyor, Adolphus Fearhake; Senator, Dr. Wm. S. McPherson; Legislature, Ephraim Albaugh, R. P. T. Dutrow, C. F. Wenner, Noah Bowles, Joseph Byers, and H. G. Maynard; Judges of Orphans' Court, John A. Simmons, Henry Houck and Jonathan D. English; County Commissioners, Charles Gross, John W. Buzzard, Dewitt C. Johnson, Maurice T. Starr, and Daniel Leatherman. Some of these candidates are returned Rebel soldiers.

FULTON.—Last week, Charles Cook, aged 14 years, while gathering walnuts near McConnelsburg, fell from a tree, fracturing his right leg above the ankle, the large bone protruding through the skin.

LANCASTER.—Frank Muhlenberg, M. D. of Lancaster, has been elected, resident Physician at the Blockly Hospital, Philadelphia.—John Bard, aged about 15 years, son of Frederick Bard, residing in West Hempfield township, was kicked on the head by a horse, on the 30th ult., from the effects of which he died in a few hours.

WASHINGTON.—The barn of Jacob H. Keedy, living near Keedysville, was set on fire about 6 o'clock on Saturday evening the 5th inst., and when discovered by the neighbors was surrounded by a number of hands employed on the Washington County Railroad, late members of the Rebel army, who refused to allow the citizens to save such property as they might have, cheered for Jeff. Davis, Stonewall Jackson and other Rebel Generals, and swore that th s was the first Radical barn burned, but would not be the last. Mr. Keedy lost 11 head of horses, 25 loads of hay, all his farming utensils, some wheat and oats, &c. It is generally believed that the barn was set on fire by these Rebels miscreants on account of Mr. Keedy being a Union man.—The Johnson Democrats have nominated the following ticket:—Clerk of Circuit Court, W. McK. Keppler; for Register of Wills, M. S. Barber; for State Senator, James H. Grove: for House of Delegates, James Coudy, Samuel M. Fiery, Alfred Showman, F. Dorsey Herbert and Elias E. Rohrer; for Judges of the Orphans' Court, James I. Hurley, J. W. Breather and Wm. H. Knode; for County Commissioners, David Hoover, David Cushwa, John Shiffler, B. J. Byers and John Ash; for Sheriff, George W. Grove; for State's Attorney, H. H. Keedy; for County Surveyor, S. S. Downey.

YORK.—Two horse thieves were arrested in Hanover, on Sunday the 22d ult., with horses in possession which proved to have been stolen from the neighborhood of Woodsboro', Md. The thieves are in jail at York.—A. Soladay has bought in Hanover, a two-story brick house which belonged to the estate of Samuel Hollinger, for $2,020. George Koehler has bought from William Beard a half lot in Hanover, for $700, and will build a fine two-story brick.—The barn of Andrew Dunlap, in Fawn township, was destroyed by fire early on the 28th ult., together with all his grain and hay, stock and farming implements, including five horses, carriage, threshing machine and harness, and entire crop of hay, straw and wheat. The loss is estimated to reach $4000. There was no insurance. The fire is believed to have been the act of an incendiary.

FOREIGN NEWS.

Garibaldi has been arrested by the Italian authorities, and his movement on Rome broken up. A Florence despatch says that he was at Sinigagli, a seaport of central Italy, and was summoned by the Italian authorities to retrace his steps. Garibaldi refused, and upon his refusal he was immediately arrested and conveyed to the fortress of Allessandria. Arms and war munitions, intended for the Garibaldian troops, were seized on the frontier. The Italian volunteers who formed the Garibaldian ranks were also made prisoners. Intense excitement prevails in that city. The Italian Government has offered to release him if he will give a parole.—U. S. bonds have fallen in Europe, in consequence of the increasing threats of repudiation, from such "Democratic" leaders as Pendleton and Vallandigham of Ohio.—The reports from Italy by the Atlantic telegraph are of grave and serious import. The arrest of Garibaldi instead of preventing the movement against Rome has apparently given it more of a national character, and brought about a revolt that may threaten the newly established unity of Italy. The outbreak in Viterbo has not been suppressed, and a town in Orvieto, and adjoining province, is in possession of the insurgents.—In regard to what is going on in Rome nothing is known, but it is reported that the Commander of the Papal forces had asked the Italian Government for assistance, which the latter had declined to furnish. Apprehensions existed of trouble between France and Italy, growing out of the position of affairs. The Russian Emperor has demanded of Turkey the cession of Candia to Greece.—Garibaldi refused to give his parole not to engage in hostile enterprise against the Papal States, and Victor Emmanual, to allay popular excitement, ordered his transfer to his home at Caprera, without a parole being insisted upon, which was done. He immediately endeavored to rejoin his troops, but his movements being watched by the Italian Government, he was again arrested and sent home, where he remains under guard.

LATER.—The cable despatches from Italy are important and show the war excitement occasioned by the Garibaldians to be increasing rather than diminishing. The first clash of arms had taken place near Bagnares, in the Papal Province of Viterbo. The insurgents held a strong position, from which the Roman troops attempted to dislodge them. A short, sharp fight resulted in the attacking party being repulsed. The victory had greatly inspirited the party of action. A meeting of the friends of Garibaldi had been held in Turin, at which revolutionary speeches were made by distinguished personages. Garibaldi was still in captivity at Caprera, but had issued a stirring address, in which he strongly urges an immediate movement on Rome. It is asserted that at the recent Salzburg Conference Napoleon and the Emperor of Austria came to an understanding as to the succession of Pope Pius. The London Standard asserts that France is arming, and that apprehensions of a winter campaign are excited.

A cable despatch from Florence dated Oct 7, (yesterday,) says that the Roman territory is being invaded on all sides, and that the Garibaldians had achieved another victory on Sunday over a force sent out from Rome to meet them on the frontier. Prussia is reported as receiving with favor the appeal of the Italian Government to the European Powers against the treaty of September, and will support the demands of Italy in regard to Rome. Edward Thornton, now Minister to Brazil, is to be the successor at Washington of Sir Frederick Bruce. It is rumored that Lord Derby will shortly retire from the British Cabinet. M. Fould, the eminent statesman and financier, died at Paris on Sunday.

PREMIUM.—The thorough bred horse, "Cashier," belonging to our townsman, Dr. T. T. TATE, took the highest premium ($25) for the finest bred horse at the Cumberland County Agricultural Exhibition last week.

SERVICES.—Rev. Mr. GLADSTONE will preach in the United Presbyterian Church in this place, on Sunday morning next.—Communion services will be held in the same church on Sunday morning, the 13th—Rev. Mr. FERGUSON officiating.

CORRECTION.—AN error occurred in last week's issue in the advertisement of WM. FISHER & SONS, Bankers, Baltimore, Md. The Union Pacific Bonds are 6 per ct. bonds, the interest payable semi-annually in gold.

ACCIDENT.—While the workmen were recently engaged at work in the ore bank on the farm of Mr. Henry Schwartz, in Union township, a portion of the embankment caved in, falling upon one of the men, whose name we have not ascertained. The unfortunate man had a pick in his hand, and in endeavoring to escape, fell upon the sharp end of the pick, inflicting a painful wound in his side.

MR. STEVENS.—The friends of Mr. STEVENS will be gratified to learn that his health continues to improve, and that there is every prospect of the great "Commoner" being at his post in the next Congress, to do battle for the great principles of constitutional liberty. He has given orders to have his house in Washington prepared for his occupancy during the approaching winter.

TO BUSINESS MEN.—The columns of the newspaper is the medium which the business man should employ if he wishes to make known to the world his avocation. He may open his stock and display over so fine a stock of goods, and yet every endeavor he may make will not bring to him the trade to be secured by a proper system of advertising. The "STAR AND SENTINEL," having a very large circulation, and being read weekly by not less than 10,000 persons, presents an invaluable and necessary advertising medium to every business man in the county.

DISTURBING SCHOOLS.—In Harrisburg, one of the public schools had been disturbed for some time by an incorrigible lad, named JOHN ALEXANDER. The teacher, after fruitless efforts to get rid of the annoyance, complained to the Mayor, who had the boy arrested and sent to jail for ten days.—We don't know but that a like remedy might be profitably applied in these parts. Incorrigibly bad boys, who persistently disobey their teachers, and demoralize the schools they attend, have no business there. The discipline of a prison, instead of that of the school-room, might be of essential service to such. Look out, boys!

EAST PA. SYNOD.—This body, being one of the most energetic ecclesiastical bodies in the Lutheran church, met at Pottsville, last week—Rev. Dr. VALENTINE, of this place, presiding. Rev. We also observe that S. A. HEDGES, M. A. FAIR, and M. COLVER, lately of the Seminary at this place, have been licensed to preach the gospel—the first two by the Melanethon Synod, and the latter by the Allegheny Synod.

Rev. A. J. HESSON, late of the Seminary, goes to Topeka, Kansas.

Mr. Latshaw has just purchased from A. Little, a house and three lots of ground in New Salem, for 1,800 dollars. It is Mr. L's intention to erect two new dwellings on the lots next summer.

SABBATH SCHOOL CONVENTION.—An adjourned meeting of the friends of the Sabbath School cause, called to consider the propriety of organizing a County Institute, was held in the Lecture room of Christ church on Monday evening—Rev. E. BERIDENBAUGH presiding, and R. G. MCCREARY, Esq., acting as Secretary. Upon a full interchange of views it was resolved to hold a Convention or Institute of three days in this place, during the month of November. The Superintendents of the Sabbath Schools and Pastors of the churches in this place were appointed a Committee of arrangements, together with JACOB A. GARDNER of Philadelphia, and JOHN R. HERSH, of New Oxford. The Committee will in due time give notice of the time, programme, &c. It is expected that Rev. ALFRED TAYLOR, Ex-Gov. POLLOCK, Rev. Dr. WILLETS, of Philadelphia, and other noted Sabbath School workers, will be present.

☞JOSEPH S. GITT, Esq., has laid on our table his Report of the Surveys of the proposed Frederick and Pennsylvania Line Rail Road, as recently run by him. The Report is able and thorough, being accompanied by interesting maps of the proposed routes, cost of construction, &c. The road runs from Frederick, Md. to Littlestown, Pa., one route by way of Brucesville and Ladiesburg, 30¼ miles, costing $614,892 90—the other by the Key School House and Double Pipe Creek, 30 miles, costing $594,267. Mr. Gitt discusses at length the importance of the road, and its probable resources.

THE GROVE FORTUNE.—A good deal has been said and written about a fortune of many millions, supposed to have been left to the Graff or Grove family in this country, by a deceased ancestor in Holland. The story turns out to be a myth. Hon. HUGH EWING, U. S. Minister to Holland, writes to Secretary SEWARD, under date of Sept. 6, 1867, as follows:—"A statement appeared some time since in an American paper to the effect that the Minister at the Hague had confirmed a report that $75,000,000 had been left in Holland to the descendants of one Hans Graff.—In answer to the many letters received upon the subject I have made inquiry and find no foundation for the rumor. Some of the writers state that their ancestors owned a large estate in a certain part of Baden, which was confiscated during a religious persecution, and that the government was prepared to refund. The minister of Baden informs me that no such persecution and confiscation ever occurred, and that the records show that at the time and place specified, one Hans Graff was in possession of a farm as tenant, but held no estate in fee. As I am advised that in many parts of the country money is being laid out by the family, and I find it impossible to continue to notice their nume ous letters, I beg to suggest that such publication be authorized by the Department as will answer their inquiries and save them further expenditures."

WELL SAID.—An exchange very truthfully says that a child beginning to read becomes delighted with a newspaper, because he reads of names and things which are very familiar, and he will make progress accordingly. A newspaper in one year, says an eminent teacher, is worth a quarter's schooling to a child, and every father must consider that substantial information is connected with advancement. The mother of the family, being one of its heads, and having a more immediate charge of the children, should herself be instructed. A mind occupied becomes fortified against the ills of life, and is braced for any emergency. Children interested in reading or studying are, of course, considerate and easily governed. How many thoughtless young men have spent their earnings in a tavern or grog shop, who ought to have been reading! How many parents who never spent twenty dollars for books for their families, would gladly have given thousands to reclaim a son or daughter who had ignorantly and thoughtlessly fallen into temptation. Newspapers will be eagerly read by children, who read from books until a taste for general reading has been cultivated. Every parent should see to it that one or more well conducted newspapers are placed regularly within reach of the family—especially the children. Such we offer in the "STAR AND SENTINEL," and shall spare no effort to make it a profitable weekly visitant in every family. Now, when the long winter evenings are coming, is the time to subscribe.

☞The fact that the Commissioner of Internal Revenue has exempted from all tax the funds which are raised by the Washington Library Company of Philadelphia for the endowment of the Riverside Institute; also that Messrs George A. Cooke & Co., the well-known Bankers, No. 33 South Third street, Philadelphia, have consented to act as receivers of the moneys thus raised, together with the names of those well-known and prominent citizens who have associated themselves with the Institute, and have consented to act as Trustees, should certainly be a sufficient guarantee to the public that every pledge and promise will be carried out to the letter. The method adopted for the endowment of this much-needed institution is one by which every individual actually receives more than could be obtained with the same amount of money if expended in the ordinary way. In the distribution of presents every one stands an equal chance, one present being guaranteed for each share of stock.—Read Advertisement.

[COMMUNICATED.

DIED.—On Thursday, September 26th, 1867, in the hope of a blissful immortality, at her residence in Bucks co., Pa., HARRIET A. HALSEY, wife of Rev. A. O. Halsey, and daughter of Mr. John Adair, sr., formerly of Adams county.

The deceased was well known in this vicinity, where she spent the earlier years of her life. Removing to Philadelphia she finally settled in Bucks county, where she assumed the duties of a pastor's wife, in a large congregation, and endearing an extensive area of country. None know the labors, trials, responsibilities, and varied duties attending such a position, except their knowledge comes by experience. Visiting every household, ministering to the sick, comforting the dying, consoling the bereaved, and performing the last sad funeral rites at the grave. In all seasons, amid the storms of winter and the heat of summer, the pastor and his wife are summoned from home.

During last winter, the deceased, whose health had become somewhat enfeebled, contracted a heavy cold, which soon ripened into that fatal disease—consumption.

In her lingering illness she longed to be with her Saviour, constantly bearing testimony to the faith that was her guide through life. In her dying hours she requested her faithful nurse to sing the following hymn, whilst her spirit was summoned, and the angels waiting to bear her away to her immortal home:

My latest sun is sinking fast,
My race is nearly run,
My strongest trials now are past,
My triumph is begun.

O, come, angel band;
Come, and around me stand;
O, bear me away on your snowy wings,
To my immortal home.

I know I'm nearing the holy rock
Of friends and kindred dear,
For I brush the dews on Jordan's banks,
The crossing must be near.

I've almost gained my heavenly home,
My spirit loudly sings,
The holy ones, behold they come—
I hear the noise of wings!

O, bear my longing heart to him,
Who bled and died for me,
Whose blood now cleanses from all sin,
And gives me victory,

A short time after, she sunk into a sweet sleep—she had crossed the banks of Jordan, and entered on an eternal Sabbath of rest.

M., on the premises, the following valuable Real Estate of said deceased, to wit:

No. 1.—The Mansion Farm, situated in Franklin township, County and State aforesaid, near the road leading from Cashtown to Fairfield, about 7 miles south of the former place, containing 106 Acres, more or less, having thereon erected a large two-story BRICK MANSION, part bricked, (built last summer,) Wagon Shed, (new,) Carriage House, Hog Pen, and other necessary outbuildings. There is a never-failing Spring of excellent water near the door of the dwelling; also, an excellent spring-house with a never-failing spring of water in it. There is a variety of choice fruit trees on the premises, consisting of Apples, Pears, Peaches, &c. About 60 Acres of the Tract are in excellent Timber, mostly White Oak. A large proportion of the Land is set in Meadow, the rest in a high state of cultivation, nearly all having been limed once and some twice, the limestone of which was obtained on the property.

No. 2.—FARM, lying in Highland township, on the public road running from Cashtown to Fairfield, 4 miles north of the latter place, containing about 270 Acres, adjoining lands of Joseph Hebert, Abraham Mickley, Wm. Waller and others. The improvements are a two-story double Log House, a good Barn and other outbuildings. There is a SAW MILL with good water-power on the property. About 70 Acres of this Tract are in Timber, consisting of Locust, Oak, &c., and plenty of good Meadow. The land is of an excellent quality and in a good state of cultivation, about one-half having been limed. There is a well of water at the door with a pump in it under roof. The above Farms are well-watered, convenient to Churches, Stores, &c., and are in every respect desirable properties. No. 2 will be offered in separate Tracts to suit purchasers.

No. 3.—A valuable Merchant Mill, known as Herring's Mill, with 12 Acres of land, situated in Hamiltonban township, Adams county, Pa., on Little Marsh Cre k, near the road leading from Fairfield to Cashtown. It is located in a fine grain growing country and commands most of the custom of Carroll's Valley.—The Mill has two Overshot Water-wheels 18 feet high, two run of Burrs and one Chopper and all fixtures necessary to a good Grist Mill in good running order. These World-renowned Sewing Machines were awarded the Highest Premium at the World's Fair, in London, and six First Premiums at the N. Y. State Fair of 1859, and are celebrated for doing the best work, using a much smaller needle for the same thread than any other machine, and by the introduction of the most approved machinery, we are now able to supply the very best machines in the world.

These machines are made at our new and spacious Factory at Bridgeport, Conn., under the immediate supervision of the President of the Company, ELIAS HOWE, Jr., the original inventor of the Sewing Machine.

They are adapted to all kinds of Family Sewing, and to the use of Seamstresses, Dress Makers, Tailors, Manufacturers of Shirts, Collars, Skirts, Cloaks, Mantillas, Clothing, Hats, Caps, Corsets, Boots, Shoes, Harness, Saddles, Linen Goods, Umbrellas, Parasols, etc. They work equally well upon silk, linen, cotton or woolen goods with silk, cotton or linen thread. They will seam, quilt, gather, hem, fell, cord, braid, bind and perform every species of sewing, making a beautiful and perfect stitch, alike on both sides of the article sewed.

The Stitch invented by Mr. HOWE, and made on this Machine, is the most popular and durable, and all Sewing Machines are subject to the principle invented by him. Send for Circulars.

SEWING MACHINES!

THE GROVER & BAKER.

THE BEST IN USE.—These Machines have become so well known that little need be said by way of recommendation. They have been the first premium at all the late State Fairs, and are universally acknowledged to be the BEST in use by all who have tried them. The "Grover & Baker Stitch" and the "Shuttle Stitch" are points that have been attained by no other Machine.—They are the only Machines that sew and embroider with perfection. These Machines are peculiarly adapted to Family use. They are almost noiseless, sew directly from the spool without rewinding, and are simple in their construction. They are easy to manage, and can be worked by almost any child. Every family should have one. They are a color, they are time, and they save money. and do their work better than it can be done by hand.

The undersigned having been appointed Agent for the above Machine, has established an Agency in Fairfield, Adams co., where he will always have on hand a supply. Persons wishing to buy will please call and examine for themselves.

Agricultural Implements.

BRINKERHOFF'S CORN SHELLER, SEPARATOR AND CLEANER.

The undersigned would inform the Agricultural public that he has purchased from the Patentee of this extraordinary machine, the Patent Right for the States of Pennsylvania and Maryland.

Brinkerhoff's Corn Sheller, Separator and Cleaner, is pronounced the best machine of the kind in this country. And in proof, it may be mentioned that the "Advisory Committee appointed to select implements for exhibition at the Universal Exposition in Paris, in 1867, have selected this Sheller as the best in America," and at the request of J. C. Derby, U. S. Agent, a machine has been shipped to Paris for exhibition. One important feature in this machine is that it will shell ears large, small or crooked perfectly clean, and separates the cob and chaff from the Corn ready for market.

The fact may also be stated that at the Great trial of Agricultural Implements, at Auburn, N. Y., in July last, under the auspices of the New York State Agricultural Society, the Brinkerhoff Corn Sheller, Separator and Cleaner was reported by one of the most competent Committees as the best Corn Sheller out. They say, "We have carefully examined and thoroughly tested this machine, and have no hesitation in pronouncing it the best Corn Sheller we ever saw." The report is signed by such men as John Stanton Gould, President N. Y. State Agricultural Society; B. P. Johnson, Secretary to same; Solon Robinson, Agricultural Editor N. Y. Tribune; S. Edward Todd, Agricultural Editor N. Y. Times."

From among many complimentary newspaper notices, the following, from the N. Y. Observer, is deemed sufficient:

"Among all the Hand-Corn Shellers made in New York and Albany—and one single firm manufacturers more than 10,000 annually—not one can enter the circle with the Sheller just invented by J. Brinkerhoff, Auburn, New York. It shells, separates and cleanses, rapidly and easily, at one operation, as fast as the ears can be put in the hopper."

The undersigned is now prepared to dispose of COUNTY RIGHTS. He will have SHELLERS ready for sale in the course of a month's time.
